Learn the Design and Construction Details of the Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport I-285 Bridge Structures Design Build Project for the 5th Runway. Presented by ACEC, AIA, CMAA, DBIA, NAWIC & SMPS

Program: The joint ACEC, AIA, CMAA, DBIA, NAWIC and SMPS program will feature a $159.5 million design build project that is a critical component of the Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta International Airport's ambitious expansion program. The project consists of designing and constructing two bridge structures for the new 9,000 foot runway and taxiway which will allow planes to take off and land over interstate 285 while traffic flows uninterrupted below. The bridge structures are so massive that the runway structure is classified as a roadway tunnel, which is the first in the state of Georgia.

The presentation will provide insight to the design build process from the perspective of the project owner, designers and the general contractor while also providing some specific details of the project design. The topics will range from discussing the Owner procurement process, key design elements and structural design challenges to how the design build project team was assembled and an update on the progress of construction.
